Peace Now Hovers Over Egypt

REASSURING SITUATION REPORTED

Prompt Action of England Is Believed to Have Averted Serious Outbreak

BULLETIN
CAIRO, Nov. 25.—The Egyptian parliament was adjourned today for a month by royal decree.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 25.—Egypt seemed quiet today, the atmosphere clearing overnight and the situation assuming an appearance which British authorities regarded as reassuring. The student demonstrations against British retribution for the murder of Sir Lee Stack appeared to have abated. Meanwhile reinforcements were gathering for the British troops entering the Sudan to enforce England's demands of evacuation of Egyptian forces there. Great Britain's prompt indication that it meant to enforce every item of its demands in the ultimatum, following the death of Sir Lee, was regarded in British circles as the severe but necessary step to quell the rising tide of feeling in Egypt.

Resignation Helpful
Resignation of Zaghoul Pasha as premier and his succession by Ahmed Zivvar Pasha, a moderate, also were helpful in restoring quiet. Zaghoul was held responsible for the British attitude towards Egyptian administration of the Sudan.

As troops were gathered to reinforce those already assigned to the Sudan, the Iron Duke was en route to join the Ben Bow and Vallant at Alexandria in pursuance of the war office order sending three warships to Egypt, the Malay was en route to Port Said and two additional destroyers speeding toward Suez.

Firm Action Brings Good Results, Newspapers Agree

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The British press showed a more unified front today toward the situation in Egypt, the general sentiment being that the firm action of the Baldwin government had brought good results.

The press resented the semi-official French intimations that the matter should be referred to the League of Nations.

Such widely contrasting newspapers as the Express and the Chronicle agree that there were no grounds for league intervention.

Quebec Is Swept by Heavy Rains, Floods

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—A check-up today revealed enormous damage throughout the province of Quebec as a result of heavy rainfall and floods over the week-end. Bridges were swept away, crops damaged and many villages endangered. Cessation of rainfall today allowed the general alarm. A delegation from Charlevoix county requested Premier Taschereau today in Quebec to urge protective measures against more floods.

Business Enters Constructive Era, Asserts Hoover

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—American business has now passed the "re-pairing" stage and has entered an era of constructive enterprise, Secretary of Commerce Hoover declared today. Hoover said that he thought the present activity in Wall street was not the forerunner of a period of inflation, harmful to business, but believed it was merely a loosening of the purse strings of American investment money.

SELECT CITY DESIGN IN LIGHTING

Majority of Councilmen Vote for Substitution On Colorado Blvd.

The City Council this morning, by a three to two vote, substituted the city type of standard for the Union Metal type in the proceedings already instituted for the improvement of Colorado boulevard with ornamental street lights from Glendale avenue to the west city limits.

This is the type of standard advocated by Councilman S. A. Davis and designed by Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production. Mayor Spencer Robinson and Councilman S. S. Gilhuly voted "no" on the measure.

Explain Their Votes
"I am casting a negative vote because I want the city to make the globes as well as the posts," said Mayor Robinson in explaining his vote.

"I voted against this proposition because the property owners involved have presented a 52 per cent petition asking for Union Metal standards, and because I believe in giving the people what they want," said Councilman Gilhuly.

Mr. Diederich appeared before the council prior to the vote and was questioned as follows: Councilman C. E. Kimlin: "Have you actual bids on the cost

The ceremony was performed by Judge Antonio Haro and was witnessed only by Mexican merchants from Guaymas and Mrs. Lillian Spicer, the bride's mother. Francisco Esqueda and Roque Ramirez were the witnesses for Chaplin and Francisco Monge of Empalme and Angel Murillo acted as witnesses for the bride.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party climbed into automobiles and drove from Empalme to Guaymas. Chaplin, surrounded by his Mexican friends who attended the wedding, denied himself to all interviewers.

The comedian parked his car in front of the postoffice at Guaymas and then went to his hotel, where a suite had been engaged for him.

Takes Short Nap
Accompanied by his Japanese secretary, Chaplin arrived at Guaymas, which is situated on the west coast of Mexico, 300 miles from Nogales, at 3 o'clock this morning.

He immediately went to a hotel and retired, but, after a short nap, proceeded by automobile to Empalme, where he was met by Miss Gray, her mother and the wedding witnesses.

HUGE CRAFT ARRIVES AT NATIONAL CAPITAL

First Lady of Land Gives Name of 'Los Angeles' To Big Airship

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The great German built dirigible ZR-3 shuffled off the last vestige of her Teutonic origin this afternoon and became completely naturalized as an American argosy of peace. In the presence of President Coolidge, Mrs. Coolidge and most of the high ranking government officials of the capital, the big ship was officially christened "The Los Angeles" and accepted into the United States navy as a peace ship, not a warship.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Swimming leisurely along in a leaden sky, the dirigible ZR-3, recently acquired from Germany, arrived in the national capital today for her baptismal ceremonies which will complete her formal transfer to the American government.

The big ship hove in sight off Bolling field shortly before 1 p. m., nearly four hours after her departure from Lakehurst, N. J., this morning.

Mrs. Coolidge to Christen
Thousands of people craned their necks in the streets and from office windows to see the great fish-shaped vessel approach Bolling field, where the christening ceremonies will take place last this afternoon. Mrs. Coolidge, wife of the president, will christen the ship and officially bestow upon it the name "Los Angeles."

It was shortly before 1 p. m. when the watchers at Bolling field raised the yell "There she is." The small army of mechanics and soldiers immediately got busy with the ground arrangements to bring the big ship to her mooring mast.

Poles Over Field
The Los Angeles took a leisurely route down from her new Jersey hangar. The helium which she was inflated also cut down her speed some. Philadelphia was passed at 9:50, Baltimore at 11:52. About 40 miles an hour was made between Baltimore and the capital, just the speed that the track trains make. The navigators set the ship directly for Bolling field. At one o'clock she poised directly over the field at a height of about 2,000 feet.

After loafing above the field for a few minutes, the nose of the dirigible was swung north-west and she floated off to give the capital residents a chance to see her.

Orders were signaled up to the ship from the ground for her not to make a landing until shortly before the ceremonies to begin at 3 o'clock. This allowed a cruise of nearly two hours above the

DISPAY FOR INAUGURAL UP TO CAL

President Will Be Called Upon To Decide About Induction March 4

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—President Coolidge plans a "moderate" inaugural ceremony next March when he is sworn in to succeed himself in the White House, it was announced here today.

Under present plans it will neither be as simple as the ceremony which saw Warren G. Harding inducted into office, nor as elaborate as the inauguration of McKinley, Roosevelt or Taft.

There will be no inaugural ball such as featured the inaugurations of presidents in former days.

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—President Coolidge soon will be called upon to state his conception of how far an inauguration of a president of the United States shall be considered a public officials' affairs, to be guided entirely by the wishes of the individual taking the oath of office.

Plans are being laid here in Washington to urge upon the president that there be a return to the olden days, with the people of the United States participating in parades, in balls, receptions and other forms of dignified celebration.

There seems to be a unanimity of feeling that if Mr. Coolidge were to consider only his personal wishes in the matter the ceremonies of his induction to a second term would be the briefest and simplest possible. There has been a decided intimation from the White House to this effect. It has been stated that a simple and economical inaugural would be in keeping with the life and the present day attitude of the chief executive.

But residents of Washington and some of the political leaders are loath to take this intimation as a final decision and they believe that when the president is presented to Mr. Coolidge from a national point of view he may submerge his own inclinations and give his approval to plans for a general celebration.

Harding Sets Precedent

Four years ago President Harding called off every form of celebration of his inauguration. President Coolidge is to be told that if he should follow this up with a second veto of the traditional inauguration customs, a double precedent may be set which will forever rob the day of a great deal of its significance to the people.

Mr. Harding acted because he was told hotels of Washington were making unreasonable demands upon those who were coming to the city for the celebration. He took the ground that the inauguration should be conducted solely as the president-elect desired it. He held that over the customary inaugural address could be done away with if the man taking the oath of office so desired. The only necessary feature of inauguration day is that the president-designate shall take the oath of office along about noon of March 4 and thereafter become the occupant of the White House.

Washingtonians are convinced that if Mr. Coolidge cuts out the parades and the fireworks this year there may never be a return to the ceremonies of the past. After two presidents have called for a simple oath taking ceremony, chief executives of the future would hesitate to revert to a day of jubilation lest they be considered vain glorious. It is felt that Mr. Coolidge above all others could agree to the old time inauguration without endangering any such opinion of himself in any quarter.

Day Belongs To People

The president is to be told that presidents of the past have felt that day belonged to the people rather than to themselves and that if the people chose to celebrate the advent of a new presidential term nothing should be put in their way. Inauguration day has been considered a sort of ratification day. Every president has been subject to the will of the people on election day. The question is shall he consider ratification day as his own affair?

President Coolidge it is believed is willing to be guided by the general sentiment of the country. He unquestionably would like to hear from the country on the subject. His mind is open. If there is a spontaneous desire for a day of celebration he is willing to give heed to it.

Many presidents of the past have taken the position that the people should be encouraged to exalt the office and the quadrennial celebration of inauguration day has been considered a tribute to the office rather than to the man. It has been considered akin to the ceremonies of Great Britain, where there is traditional respect for authority and for office. When the lord mayor of London takes office the parades and ceremonials are almost medieval in splendor. The ceremonials tend to impress the people with the importance of government and the importance of the offices which they fill. It is admitted that by and large there is none too much of this sort of respect in the United States.

In an effort to find a quick setting lime plaster more than 2000 mixtures were tested recently.

Mean Man Visits Glendale, Stealing Turkey Day Feed

The meanest man in the world visited Glendale last night, stealing two turkeys from the yard of Arthur G. Arnold, 7222 Kenneth road. Mr. Arnold was awakened at 11 o'clock by a series of irate gobbles, followed by the sputter of a certain popular type of light car getting under way. He looked out the window just in time to see his Thanksgiving dinner vanishing down the road. The police were notified. "But," says Chief John D. Fraser, "finding two turkeys at this season is like looking for a pair of very small needles in a very large haystack."

CHAPLIN TO WED LEADING WOMAN

Dame Rumor Has It That Noted Comedian Will Take Wife

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southland News Service.
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 25.—By the time this is read Charles Chaplin may be married to Lita Grey, his 18-year-old leading lady, who is said to be with her mother at Guaymas, Mexico, awaiting the arrival of the noted comedian-director at Enpalme.

Be that as it may, other film stars are enlisting in the ranks of matrimony and the latest announcement that to reach my desk is to the effect that Ruth Clifford, one of filmdom's beautiful players, will wed James A. Cornelius, Beverly Hills banker. A honeymoon to Hawaii the first of the year is planned.

"Death" Sentence
It seems almost like a death sentence to read that Aileen Pringle has signed for "One Year to Live," an M. C. Levee production just starting with Antonio Moreno and Dorothy Mackaill in leading roles. Miss Pringle will portray the highly emotional role of the celebrated French actress in the story who, advised by her physician that she has one year to live, proceeds to do so.

Another actress doomed to "die" for the sake of her art is Viola Dana. She says, "At last I have found a story and a director who will let me die in a picture and I am happy." In the film version of "Pandora La Croix," released the first of year under the title "As Man Desires," Miss Dana will be the center of attraction for several reels and then make her exit in a death scene.

Another Kid Star
Frankie Darro, known to vaudeville audiences as the baby athlete who can stand on his ear, when labor authorities would grant him a permit to appear with his father and mother, is going to have an important role in "Judgment," Frank Lloyd's latest effort.

All of which reminds that Lita Grey made her first appearance with Jackie Coogan in "The Kid," in which Charlie Chaplin both starred and directed, four years ago.

McKelvey, parliamentarian of the state and district club federations, is to instruct the department the last Monday of each month. Mrs. W. H. Brandstater, former curator, directed the review on "Methods of Conducting a Meeting." Mrs. P. S. McNutt presented the lesson on "Classified Motions."

WASHINGTON RADIO MAY BE TAXED

Capitol Planning To Make Phone Users Help Pay For Broadcasting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The moot question as to the manner in which radio broadcasting shall be charged and paid for is involved in a controversy before the federal utility commission here. The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., local branch of the Bell system, has been cited to show cause why telephone rates in the District of Columbia should not be reduced. The company has replied that it cannot reduce rates and continue operating its powerful radio station—the one which has carried the voice of President Coolidge and other national orators to the far corners of the United States.

The commission is to be called upon therefore to decide whether the expense of broadcasting is a legitimate one for public service corporation and whether this expense may properly be assessed against the general telephone subscribers, regardless of whether they operate a radio receiving set or not.

The decision may be a two-edged one, for if the commission rules that the expense is legitimate and that broadcasting is a proper function of the telephone company, it may also decide that the company continue broadcasting at all times in the future as a part of its obligation to the public.

Further hearings are to be held on the subject this week, but there is no indication as yet as to when an opinion may be handed down.

Telephone Earnings
During its last fiscal year the experts of the commission have found that the Chesapeake and Potomac Co. earned a return of 8.21 per cent on its investment. The commission is said to consider that a 7 per cent earning rate is sufficient and that telephone rates should be reduced to the earning goes above that figure.

The utilities commission has not taken into consideration an item of $90,000 listed by the telephone company as the cost of operating its local radio station WCAP. The company regards this as an entirely legitimate proper expense and is arguing that the commission should so accept it.

Not feeling themselves responsible for the development of the radio, the commission officials thus far have indicated their disapproval of discharging the $90,000 against the telephone subscribers.

May Abandon Station
Intimations of the abandonment of the big station, or its transfer to some other city, have come from officials of the Bell System, but no definite steps have been announced pending an official decision.

The telephone company feels that the city of Washington, the national capitol, should have a high powered station in operation at all times. They claim the station is of benefit to all the people from the president down. Almost nightly some phase of government activity is the subject of an address over the radio.

WCAP is one of two big stations that divide the air from Washington, the other being WRC operated by the Radio Corporation of America. The expense of the latter station is not involved in the controversy. The Bell System, with interests everywhere and a growing activity in radio may be seriously affected by any precedent set in the Washington decision.

GIRL HOBO JOTS POEM TO POLICE

Bobbed-Hair Wanderer Who Lands In Jail Waxes Into Verse

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 25.—An Ode to Road:

"We're on our way,
But don't forget us,
We'd like to stay,
If the cops would let us."

That was the parting poem inscribed at the city jail by Ethel Blackburn, bobbed-haired wanderer, who, with her husband, Herbert Blackburn, and her father, A. G. Luce, were arrested here for sleeping in an alley.

Los Angeles was the last place they called home, according to the girl, who was the life of the party. She obtained a job at a State street restaurant only to find she didn't possess a clean apron. Discouraged, she cast her lot in a pile of boxes in the alley where her men folks were sleeping.

When Captain Kelley greeted the party and escorted them to jail, Ethel inscribed on the police blotter:

"We got here late
And sure were tired,
I got a job
Only to be fired."

"Then Captain Kelley
Came bounding along
And put us all in
A jail cell strong."

Other verses describing the strange trio's wanderings were found among the girl's possessions.

FARM RELIEF TACKLED BY LEADERS

Biggest Economic Problem Since Wartime To Be Non-Political

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The most important political and economic problem of the after-war period in American history is at least being tackled from a non-partisan and judicial standpoint without either the pressure of party politics or interference by sectional groups.

A commission of nine selected by the president has been given the widest possible scope for its inquiry. The appointment of the commission is a sequel not only to the failure of the last session of congress to get together on a farm relief program but to the unrecanted feud between the department of commerce and the department of agriculture on the placing of the bureau of markets in one department or the other. The new commission has been asked particularly to restrict itself in no way but to go into the whole farm problem. It has been told that it can make recommendations with respect to the re-arrangement or consolidation of various bureaus having to do with the farm problem. It is not only to inquire into the workings of present laws but to render an opinion on the different proposals pending in the last session of congress for farm relief and lastly it is to concern itself with ways and means of promoting the study of co-operative marketing.

Land Grant Colleges
On the last point it would not be surprising if the commission started a program of study in the land grant colleges so that co-operative marketing would be studied from the academic side just as business management and finance are studied in preparation for the tasks of the industrial and manufacturing world. There is no exaggerating the importance of the work of the new commission with respect to pending bills.

Pride of authorship, the inner politics of farm organization and a half dozen other problems have become so entangled with each other to such an extent that it has been difficult for the administration to back wholeheartedly any one bill. Nor has it been practical to obtain the amalgamation of several proposals into one. Nothing was more disappointing to the members of the senate and the house from agricultural states in the last session than the failure to pass any bill of importance with respect to farm relief. Congress had the desire but lacked the teamwork and the practical knowledge. The congressional committees were so torn by the conflicting proposals that virtually nothing was accomplished.

Non-Political Atmosphere
Mr. Coolidge wanted to put the agricultural commission to work immediately after congress adjourned last spring but was advised to wait till after the annual election so the issue could be taken out of politics temporarily at least. Now the commission meets therefore in a favorable atmosphere. It need not think of what effect its proposals will have on any political party. Indeed, the chances are that if it can bring out a unanimous report the Democrats from agricultural states will support it as strongly as the Republicans.

Another advantage which the commission enjoys is that no crisis of acute situation is immediately ahead. The condition of agriculture while far from what most ultimately be desired if stability is to be experienced for any length of time is nevertheless better than it was a year or two years ago.

Ready For Winter Session
Usually if there is a crisis in any particular industry the proposals for relief are so extreme and character and the judgments of the proponents warped by acute feeling that a calm consideration of the merits of any suggestion is difficult.

The new commission hopes to get its report ready for the winter session of congress. That is optimistic. There are many reasons why action at the coming congress would be desirable and even easy to obtain if there should be a unanimous report from the commission. But most controlling will be the knowledge that the farm areas of the United States will be demanding a special session after March 4 to get something done on the committee's recommendation. The committee has all the co-operation it needs from government agencies and farm organizations and might surprise everybody by having a report ready in February. There is a meeting of the National Council for Co-operative Marketing here in January whose discussions probably will be very helpful to the commission.

High Sugar Content In Beets Causes Advance

DENVER, Nov. 25.—The Great Western Sugar Co. expects to make 8,200,000 one-hundred pound bags this season. This will mean an advance in the selling value of $2,200,000 over last year. The gain in acreage and high sugar content of beets have been factors in this record output.

Shanghai, China, receives furs from Tibet and other regions and shipped 4,597,000 pieces last year.

INDUSTRIAL FUTURE OF GLENDALE DISCUSSED

BIDS DENIED ON FLOOD CONTROL

County Supervisors Reject Offers, Passing Buck To Glendale

By rejecting all bids on the proposed engineering work to control the flood waters of Sycamore and Verdugo canyons, for which the voters of Los Angeles county recently authorized the expenditure of $450,000, the board of supervisors of this county yesterday "passed the buck" back to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations who have taken a stand either for or against the tunnel plan introduced by Virgil B. Stone, city manager, and favored by the city council.

The supervisors have said in effect, in deferring the next hearing until January 5, 1925: "Get together first, then tell us what you want and we will give it to you." And in the opinion of Mr. Stone, though this action does not spell defeat for the tunnel plan, it makes its adoption very problematical.

"Meanwhile nearly a half million good dollars that Los Angeles county voters appropriated to be spent in Glendale lie waiting to be put to use, while the winter rains are at hand and nothing has been done," says John Doe—and there are thousands of him.

Two Plans Explained

A four-fifths vote of the board of supervisors would have been required to adopt the tunnel plan, according to Ray L. Morrow, Glendale city attorney. The board could have adopted the open ditch plan by a three-to-two vote. Inasmuch as the tunnel plan is considered a modification of the plan approved by the voters who appropriated the money, and which called for an open ditch to carry off the Sycamore canyon flood waters, the four-fifths vote is required, Mr. Morrow stated, this being a provision of the Los Angeles flood control act of 1915, which makes the board of supervisors ex-officio the supervisors of the Los Angeles county flood control district.

It was after a survey of the tunnel project had been accomplished by engineers from the office of James W. Reagan, chief engineer of the Los Angeles county flood control district, that it was decided to call for alternate

Greater Glendale Luncheon Members To Extend Thanks

"What Glendale People Have to Be Thankful For" will be told by a number of the members at the regular weekly meeting of the Greater Glendale Luncheon club Wednesday at noon instead of Thursday this week. This feature and the awarding of a real live turkey as the attendance prize will lend a true Thanksgiving atmosphere to the meeting. G. H. Orgibet, who will preside, will call upon a number of the members to give their reasons why Glendale should be thankful. The meeting will be held as usual at the Masonic temple at 2:15 o'clock.

Long Beach Band to Observe Anniversary

The Long Beach municipal band, well known to many in Glendale, will celebrate its second anniversary Tuesday, December 2, with special programs now being prepared. Two concerts of special excellence, one at 2:30 o'clock, the other at 7:30 o'clock, will be given.

Under the direction of Herbert Clarke, the band has made an enviable name during the two years of its existence. Seven new pieces have recently been added, giving an organization of fifty men capable of handling any music. Before going to Long Beach, Mr. Clarke was leader of a band at Toronto and before that director of the Twenty-second Regimental band of New York.

Spite-Work Burglary Makes Glendale Debut

Phil Norton Will Speak at Realty Board Meeting Tomorrow Noon

The speaker will particularly stress the advantages salesmen gain in being a member of the realty board.

Income Tax Lists Open For Public Inspection

Effective at once, Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell announced yesterday that the income tax lists in his office will be open for public inspection on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays of each week, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 12 noon, only. It has been found necessary to restrict the number of days and hours when the public may inspect lists in order that the work of preparation of the bills for the coming December 15 installment may be taken care of in sufficient time so that all taxpayers may be notified.

Collector Goodcell invited particular attention to the fact that the members of his force must post all payments, prepare bills, forward notices and demands for tax, and issue warrants of distraint from the records of this office, and that it is impossible to accomplish this work when the income tax lists are open to inspection by the public at all hours of the day. All persons making application for the inspection of the Internal Revenue lists are advised by the Collector to read Section 3167 of the Revised Statutes, now posted in his office.

Postal Service Change To Be Announced Soon

Chest Workers Give 'Have You A Parrot' Prize Brown Derby

Out of the maze of stories, complaints, reports of success and of failure, which have been received at the headquarters of the Community Chest on South Brand boulevard, the following yarn has been declared the winner by Mrs. Dan Campbell, colonel of the women's division. Mrs. E. J. Morgan, one of the division majors, vouches for the story.

Two workers called at a house, and a slight young man came to the door. "Ah! You are too late, we have just given all our money to the painter."

This implied excuse failed to satisfy the women workers. They were insisting on a donation, when a piping voice from the rear room of the house was heard: "Don't give them anything, Henry, don't you dare give them a cent."

The workers listened for a moment, then one of them quick-wittedly spoke up: "O, have you a parrot?"

Rehearsal of Cantata Is Called for Tonight

Final rehearsal with orchestra will be held Sunday, December 14, at 10 o'clock, in the choral hall on the second floor of the Philharmonic auditorium, Fifth and Olive streets, Los Angeles.

Year's Biggest Social Affair And Charity Benefit Promise Much

The annual charity ball, the biggest social function on the Glendale Elks calendar, will take place tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Glendale lodge, through its relief committee headed by Stanley S. Frenz, does no more important work than that accomplished among the poor and destitute. The proceeds from the charity ball go to augment the relief funds of the lodge.

The following thirty-minute program will be given by the bandsters: March—"Glendale B. P. O. Following the concert there will be a social hour. The Robinson Players will give two acts of "Adam and Eve," the comedy production which has just finished a two weeks' run here. The players have donated their services. Secretary Walter Jones of the Elks lodge announced.

Dancing in the ball room to Roy Bidlecome's Syncopated orchestra music will be enjoyed by the Elks and all their friends during the remainder of the evening. Gerald A. Dockery is chairman of the entertainment committee and J. Murray Durham has charge of the dancing program.

252 Turkeys Pass
More than 400 Elks from Glendale and visiting lodges joined in the annual turkey distribution in the "Jinks" room at the club on East Colorado last night. A total of 252 turkeys, ranging in weight from eight to fourteen pounds, each were given away to the members.

Proceeding the distribution of the turkeys, a short business meeting was held at which time the installation of a new Elks lodge, No. 1497, at Burbank was announced by Exalted Ruler L. S. Patterson. Officers and members and the state champion band of Glendale lodge will assist in the installation of the Burbank lodge on Tuesday evening, December 2 at 8 o'clock.

Planning Body Puts Off Commercial Application

City Planning commission last night continued for another week the application of Haddock & Nibley for establishment of a commercial district at the corner of Canada boulevard and Verdugo road. On December 1, the next meeting, the petition filed with the city clerk at the November 20 session of the City Council will be heard before the commission, when it is expected that protesting property owners of the section, led by H. T. Morrow, will be present and offer their objections to the proposed district. The meeting last night was held at the city hall, T. W. Watson, chairman, presiding.

New York Woman Is Now Counted Among The News Boosters

Among the interested and loyal readers of The Glendale Evening News is Mrs. S. Alice Norton of Onondaga, New York. In sending a check for her subscription to The News, Mrs. Norton writes:

"I could not think of giving up The News, for all my friends are just as anxious to get hold of it as I am, and it gives me pleasure to pass it on, for I am a booster for Glendale; so much so that a doctor and his wife from here were out there a year ago. They were so delighted with Glendale that they built them a camphouse on the lake here and named it Glendale. They are on the way now to spend the winter at Long Beach and I wish that I could spend mine in Glendale. I am going to some day."

Fire Patrols Ordered Back to Forest Posts

Fire patrols have been ordered back to their posts in the Verdugo hills by Chief P. J. Hayselden of the Glendale unit, Angeles Forest Protective association. After the recent rains, which thoroughly wet the hills, the local patrols were taken off, but following a conference recently with Stuart Flintham, county forester, the order to return to their posts was issued by Chief Hayselden.

The hot east winds of the last few days have dried the hills and there is again danger of destructive brush fires, Chief Hayselden stated. Mr. Flintham's men have quelled three embryo fires in the Angeles forest within the past three days and twice in as many days Chief Hayselden's men have nipped menacing blazes in the bud, once on North Verdugo road and once in the Montrose hills. Of the $5000 appropriated by the county for the Glendale unit of the Angeles Forest Protective association, ample funds remain to carry on the work locally until the heavy rains come, stated Chief Hayselden. Leo Lang, assistant chief, is in charge of the active work in the hills.

Mr. Dail estimates that the amount of his loss will total $500.

REALTORS ARE HOSTS AT C. C. OPEN FORUM DINNER

A. G. Arnoll, Manager of Los Angeles Chamber Of Commerce, Outlines Possibilities Of City For Securing Big Plants

Industries, plenty of them, but without the proverbial smoke stack, can be Glendale's if this city will go after them. A well defined working plan and expert presentation of the advantages offered here will enable this city to take the lion's share of the 1200 industrial plants which are locating in Southern California each year at the present time.

These were the declarations of A. G. Arnoll, manager of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and industrial expert, before several hundred Glendadians assembled at the third monthly forum dinner of the Chamber of Commerce last night.

The speaker pictured long lines of large industrial buildings running along San Fernando road from the city boundaries on the south to the line of Burbank on the northwest, among them tile and wearing apparel plants, fine furniture factories, manufacturers of building materials, oil refineries, automobile assembling plants and movie studios.

Seek Cheap Sites
Many factories engaged in these lines, and located in Los Angeles proper at the present time, are anxious to obtain suitable locations where the cost of land is less and the congestion of the great city can be avoided, he said. In Glendale they would be better situated than in Los Angeles and probably better than anywhere else in the southland. Mr. Arnoll said. He thrilled his audience when he pointed out that Hollywood property in many instances is becoming so valuable that studios must move, and suggested that Glendale secure some of the larger ones. The opportunities for this city to gain industries lie not in the east or elsewhere, but in Los Angeles. Mr. Arnoll declared, and he urged that this city look to Los Angeles to supply a goodly number before it spends any effort farther away.

"The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is Glendale's chamber as much as it is Los Angeles'; it is working for Southern California as a whole and for every part of it," Secretary Arnoll said. "The Los Angeles chamber is putting industrial plants where conditions are best suited for them. Glendale is ideally situated, and if it will do its share in mapping out a definite and adequate plan and avoiding haphazard development, more than a few of these plants will be sent here."

Home Town Talks
Mr. Arnoll gave the main address on the program last night, which was under the auspices of the Glendale Realty board. Rev. Walter Thornton, pastor of the Christian church at Fullerton, received thunderous applause at the conclusion of his talk. "Southern California—Straight

BUDGET SAVING

There is music in the air these days, and none of it sounds much sweeter than the statement of Brigadier General Herbert M. Lord, director general of the budget, when he said that the ordinary expenses of the federal government had been cut in half during the first three years under the budget system, representing a saving of $2,000,000,000, and that President Coolidge had already issued instructions that total departmental estimates for 1926 must not exceed $1,800,000,000, exclusive of the public debt and the postal service. And Brigadier General Lord continues, "As far as the director of the budget is concerned the instructions of the chief executive will be reflected in actual performance. Reduction of expenditures all along the line, that and that alone, has made reduction in taxation and reduction in indebtedness possible. Money saved by the retrenchment campaign of the president, operating through the bureau of the budget, has been applied to the public debt and to the lessening of taxation."

This pruning will undoubtedly lead to considerable disappointment to department heads at Washington, and others in the government service, but the taxpayers are not making any strenuous objections to such a program. The president's advocacy of drastic national retrenchment has had not a little to do with his popularity, and his endorsement by the people on November 4.

SKILLED WORKERS

In all industries there is said to be a dearth of skilled workers, while there is a surplus of unskilled labor. The Hemet News points out that the skilled worker is the last to lose his job in hard times and the first to be promoted.

And yet, the boy and girl today scorn to learn a trade. They leave school with no definite aim and no definite capacity for any kind of work. They just look for a job expecting, somehow, to arrive very soon among the ranks of the highly paid executives.

This brings to mind a story told by H. V. Adams at a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Forum. A man was seeking a position for his son with a railroad where he might learn the business. The railroad official asked the boy what course he wished to take and recommended to him the coal oil course as being the one in which he could learn all the details of the business and make the greatest advancement.

The young people today scorn the coal oil course. They want nothing to do with work that means dirty hands. Knowing a trade never hurt any boy or girl, no matter how great a destiny awaits him or her, and being skilled in some kind of work is a wonderful resource against adversity, and adversity comes to nearly all of us at some time or other during life.

TAX REDUCTION INVITING

Florida has taken a novel way to colonize her unoccupied territory. An amendment to the state constitution does away with all income and inheritance taxes in the state, thereby inviting people of wealth, who consider they are paying too much of the cost of the state government where they are, to come and establish a legal residence in Florida.

Florida has considerable unoccupied and unimproved land, some of which is desirable, and much is not. Other states will watch with interest the outcome of this experiment. Florida has some attractive features, of course, and where is the man or woman to whom the promise of lower or fewer taxes is not attractive? But, in Southern California living conditions are ideal all the year around, and there are other attractions so great that most people who have tasted of our climate and other advantages are glad to live here and pay for the privilege. However, we are not above accepting any reductions in taxes should they come our way.

COMBINING HOLIDAYS

A Redlands man makes the suggestion that two of our holidays, Armistice day and Thanksgiving day, be consolidated, and there is some logic in his argument. In a way the two days are similar, both are dedicated to gratitude for peace and prosperity. The former has a fixed date, the latter has not. Therefore, it should be easy to change the regular Thanksgiving festival and make it come a matter of two weeks earlier, on Armistice day. This would eliminate one holiday at a season when there is a superfluous number of holidays which tend to demoralize business.

Attention is called to the fact that Labor day, Admission day, Columbus day, Armistice day, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's all follow the summer vacation season closely. Combining Armistice day and Thanksgiving would probably not meet with popular favor, but the idea merits some attention.

NORWAY RESENTS INSULT TO FLAG

Liquor smugglers off the Atlantic coast who have been claiming protection under various foreign flags ran up against a stone wall when it became known that some of these boats were flying the Norwegian flag. The Norwegian minister at Washington has made it clear that the people of his country will be quick to resent the use of their flag by those engaged in carrying on a trade which violates the law of the United States, and that popular sentiment in Norway will compel the adoption of some measure to protect their flag from such abuse.

It is said the activity of the Atlantic coast guard has been instrumental in cutting down the volume of liquor smuggled into the country in the vicinity of New York 90 per cent in the last few months. Were other countries as quick to assist in this work as Norway seems to be, the smuggler might well prepare to go out of business very shortly.

The baby crop is community profit and wasting ten per cent of our baby crop is extravagance.

Well, anyway, those who drink bootleg liquor are usually blind to their faults.

Who has no time for his health today will have no health for his time tomorrow.

Too often, matches that are made in heaven won't strike on earth.

THERE'S SOMETHING IN THE AIR!

Horoscope

This should be a fairly fortunate day, according to astrology. Mars, Uranus and Venus are all in benefic aspect. Jupiter, Saturn and Neptune are all adverse.

Early in the morning the rule is good for progressive business and intellectual pursuits. Educational matters should be pushed vigorously.

It is a promising rule for constructive work that has to do with the letter or with fine arts.

Under this way the emotions may be easily stirred and ebbs and floods of feeling should be avoided since extremes lead to impulsive acts that will be regretted.

The impulse to indulge in day dreams and casual love making may be strong and should be avoided, because romance under this direction of the stars is likely to lead to regret.

Mars is in a place forecasting the growth of strong military spirit, which will be combated by great peace organizations.

Whatever has to do with original thought should be successful and inventors or promoters should benefit today.

Saturn is in an aspect threatening to labor interests and indicating much disturbing propaganda.

Those who deal in oils, chemicals, drugs and anaesthetics should be cautious when Neptune is in malefic aspect.

All the signs appear to foreshadow much disappointment in certain quarters regarding oil interests and there may be dissatisfaction among the people because the price of gasoline advances.

Under this way there is to be expected a tendency toward hasty judgment and superficial knowledge.

Children should be given thorough instruction, the seers declare, since they will want to know many things slightly and to avoid exhaustive study.

Persons whose birth date it is may have rather a difficult, strenuous year. They probably will make long journeys that are profitable.

Children born on this day probably will be quick, active and fond of varied experiences. These subjects of Sagittarius may be inclined to spend money too freely, but they should have the ability to win wealth.

Smiles

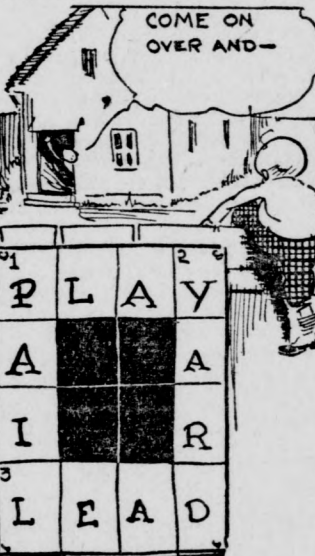

CONFIRMED
Jealous Wife—"I heard you were out with that Jones woman last evening."
Husband—"Nonsense. Why, I wouldn't take her to a dog fight."

J. W.—"Just as I suspected. You think too much of her for that!"

CRAZY THING TO DO
He: "Love is a kind of insanity."
She: "Who in the world has been falling in love with you?"

SMACK!
Amorous Her: "Kiss me good night, that my sleep may be one long golden dream."
Not-so-Amorous She: "Say, who do you think I am—Jack Dempsey?"

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED

Today's Poem

SONG
A spirit haunts the year's last hours
Dwelling amid these yellowing bowers.

To himself he talks;
For at eventide, listening earnestly,
At his work you may hear him sob and sigh

In the walks;
Earthward he boweth the heavy stalks
Of the mouldering flowers.

Heavily hangs the broad sun-flower
Over its grave 'neath the earth so chilly;
Heavily hangs the hollyhock,
Heavily hangs the tiger lily.

The air is damp, and hushed and close,
As a sick man's room when he taketh repose
An hour before death.

My very heart faints and my whole soul grieves
At the moist, rich smell of the rotting leaves,
And the breath
Of the fading edges of box beneath.

Heavily hangs the broad sun-flower
Over its grave 'neath the earth so chilly;
Heavily hangs the hollyhock,
Heavily hangs the tiger lily.

—Alfred Lord Tennyson.

Who's Who

Governor-elect Ben Sanford Paulen, who will climb into the governor's chair in Topeka next January by virtue of his overwhelming defeat of Governor Jonathan Davis, will not have to take such a long step, for he has been lieutenant-governor of Kansas since 1922. The Democratic landslide, which took Governor Davis into office over W. Y. Morgan, the Republican candidate, did not extend to the rest of the ticket, and Paulen, a Republican, was swept into office along with the Democratic governor.

Mr. Paulen has lived practically all his life at Fredonia, but he is not a native of Kansas, having just missed being a native of that state by the narrow margin of three months. He was born in DeWitt county, Illinois, July 14, 1869. His father was Jacob Walter Paulen, a farmer of DeWitt county; his mother was Lucy Bell Paulen.

From Illinois his parents moved to Wilson county, arriving at Fredonia in a covered wagon exactly three months to the day after the birth of the baby boy who was destined to be governor.

Ben Paulen was educated in the Fredonia schools and spent one term at the University of Kansas. But after this one term, he returned to Fredonia to go into his father's hardware store. He was given a one-third interest.

Even after the retirement of his father, the younger Paulen continued in the hardware business until 1918, when he sold the store and became associated with the Wilson County bank of Fredonia as its president. He has held that position since that time.

Ben Paulen's first "fling" in politics was in 1900 when he was elected mayor of Fredonia. He was three times elected to that office.

In 1912 he was elected state senator from the senatorial district of Wilson and Neosho counties, and was re-elected to the senate in 1916. In 1917, during his term as senator, he was appointed by Governor Capper as state oil inspector, which position he held until 1921. In 1922 he was nominated without opposition by the Republicans for lieutenant-governor, and presided over the regular session of the legislature in 1923.

In his political activities Paulen has been counted as a progressive. During his term as senator he lined up with the progressive wing of his party.

TROUBLES IN SPAIN

(San Francisco Chronicle)
Spain, which, unlike this country, had somebody who did keep her out of the war, has been in trouble ever since peace was declared. King Alfonso appears to be a good fellow, but something of a ninny, and for nearly a year has been governed by one General Rivera, a Marquis or something, who seems to be no great improvement on King Alfonso, but is supported by the army. There are internal squabbles apparently centering on the number of job holders and who they shall be.

But the main trouble is about a strip of Morocco, whose natives prefer to govern themselves in their wild fashion rather than be bossed by Spain. The Spanish people have been maintaining an army there for years at great expense without getting anywhere and are tired of footing the bills.

There is strict censorship of the wires and we know little of what is going on, but the whole kingdom seems ripe for revolution. There seems to be a revolutionary organization across the French border and some alleged Spanish revolutionists have just been run in by the French police. There is likely to be real news from Spain almost any day. There are plenty of communists there.

Blasco Ibañez, who seeks to politically capitalize his literary standing, is conducting a furious campaign against the Spanish monarchy from safe headquarters in a Paris hotel. His Italian comrade in political leadership, D'Annunzio, did not hesitate to endanger his own neck.

Unquestionably the political situation in Spain is that of a rumbling volcano liable to erupt at any moment.

'DOWN EASTER' LAUDS GLENDAL

Globe Trotter and Lecturer
Writes City Is 100
Per Cent Ideal

What a real "down easterner" from New York state thinks of Glendale and how some of the institutions here impressed him are shown in a letter to C. A. Redmond, city passenger agent of the Union Pacific received from Charles W. Kay, well known lecturer and globe trotter who recently visited this city.

Mr. Kay lectured in Glendale last week at the Broadway and Harvard schools in connection with a moving picture depicting life on a modern ocean liner. More than 2000 students and teachers heard his talk at the Broadway school. During his stay here Mr. Kay was entertained at the Redmond home, 331 West Harvard street.

"If I were to live in Southern California, I am sure Glendale would be my home town. The town's cleanliness, the home appearance, and the kindness of the people, appealed to me," Mr. Kay wrote.

High Praise Given

"During my lecture in your great high school I was most profoundly impressed, for never before anywhere had I spoken to such a large number of students at one time. The kindly and homelike feeling of those young men and women toward each other will remain with me for a long time. Best of all was their 100 percent ratio of intelligence."

Mr. Kay praised the school system of Glendale and the principals and teachers. "The complete co-operation between pupils and teachers, and teachers and principals, touched me so profoundly, I shall express myself before the high schools in my own city—New York, when I return home. "Watch those boys and girls," he concludes. "They are made of the right stuff and the country will hear from them later."

FRAZIER PARK TO REVISE SCHEDULE

Cabin Site Prices To Change After Dec. 1, Owners Of Property Say

Beginning December 1, a new policy will go into effect in the sales department of the Frazier Mountain Park Fisheries Co., Inc., owners of Frazier Mountain park, near Lebec, when the prices of all the property will be revised according to the location and the value of the cabin sites, and no more sites will be sold at the present low prices, according to an announcement made today by W. L. Twining, vice president of the company.

"The sale of cabin sites at Frazier Mountain park," says Mr. Twining, "has been unprecedented in my years of experience in the real estate business, and I look for the remainder of the property to be snapped up just as fast as the first buyers have been when we have completed laying them out."

Additional Springs

Within the past week the discovery of additional springs in Soldier Meadow, in the center of the park, has given a flow of water almost double that which existed at first. The extra supply was struck when a gravel stratum was encountered at a depth of three feet during the excavations for one of the lakes, and the presence of this volume of water will, it is declared, facilitate the filling of the lakes much more rapidly than had originally been contemplated.

Trails and roads that have been cleared of brush are now being built through the property, and three miles will shortly be completed. The six lakes, the rearing pool for the fish, and the wading ponds for the children, will, it is predicted, be finished within the next two weeks, advancing the development of the property almost by an entire year.

Believing that a feminine "lure" may have been used to entice Archie L. Haverstock, Los Angeles contractor, to a deserted beach near San Juan Capistrano, where he was slain, police today were tracing the "love trail" the murder victim was thought to have followed. Four women, known to have been friends of the slain man, were sought for questioning. Fred Tate, former husband of Mrs. Alice Tate, who lived here as Haverstock's wife, was questioned by the authorities today, but furnished no information regarding the man's mysterious death.

Police searched today for two handits who held up and beat Brice Taylor, star football player of the University of Southern California. Although Taylor has only one arm, he fought off the bandits, who attacked him while he was on his way home, until struck over the head and knocked unconscious.

Although a coroner's inquest returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide" in the death of R. E. Mack, vaudeville booking agency president, who was shot and killed in his office by Zane R. Southern, a chauffeur, the district attorney announced today Southern would be charged with murder. Testimony that the slain man had won the love of Southern's wife was given at the inquest.

The word "prejudice" is defined as pre-judgment without due examination. And, that is exactly what it means. Many people condemn any sort of a stock issue simply because it is a stock issue. When it is suggested to them that they purchase a share in a corporation that deals in the safest form of security known to mankind, namely Real Estate Mortgages, it is only the most biased in their opinion that allow that "blind prejudice" to prevent them from at least investigating. Our plan is one that has been successfully followed for many years by a great many corporations. Our management is composed of a number of men whose integrity and honesty are unquestioned, and who have had years of experience that qualifies them as mortgage experts. We don't expect you to accept our statements without a thorough investigation. All that we ask is that you inquire of people who know something about us. They are the ones who can tell you the real facts.

One or more units of our securities would make a very suitable Christmas gift, both enduring and valuable.

You can invest for only $20 down and $10 a month, and you will receive interest on each partial payment.

GET AT THE CAUSE!

Many Glendale Folks Are Showing
How to Avoid Needless Suffering.

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Glendale people. Profit by this Glendale resident's experience:

Mrs. W. C. Swafford, 411 W. Stocker St., says: "When my little girl, Louise, four years of age, was troubled with her kidneys, she had no control over the secretions. So I decided to give her Doan's Pills. After taking three boxes, she was relieved of the trouble."

Mrs. Swafford is only one of many Glendale people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S PILLS, the same that Mrs. Swafford had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50 cents at all dealers. EAR TROUBLES—Continued

In yesterday's paper I gave you a little information concerning the anatomy of the ear. Let's review it briefly.

The ear consists of three parts—the external ear, the middle ear and the internal ear. The external ear consists of the pinna, which is that complicated apparatus which, because of complications in washing, is the bane of the existence, especially of the youthful masculine race; 2. The inner part, or ear canal, which ends at the ear drum membrane. This canal is lined with skin which is well supplied with a characteristic type of glands which secrete the ear wax (cerumen). The middle ear—that part beyond the ear drum—is lined with mucous membrane and is supplied with air through the eustachian tube, which opens in the back of the throat. It also connects with the cells or cavities in the mastoid bone back of the ear. It has three little ear bones which transmit the vibrations of the ear drum to the auditory nerve. The internal ear, situated in the temple bone, contains the real hearing organ, which really is the nerve endings of the auditory nerve.

Now we will consider some of the troubles of the outer part of the external ear. First, let us take up troubles in position.

The normal external ears should set close to the head, but they sometimes protrude uncomfortably, so far as politerature is concerned. Sometimes, even when they do not protrude at birth, they are made to do so by the careless method of putting babies down with their ears turned forward.

If the ears do protrude, or if the baby has a tendency to lie on them turned forward, they can be strapped down with a piece of adhesive tape, about one-quarter inch wide and four or five inches long, strapped so that one inch or so comes on the face and two inches or so on the back of the head. This tape can remain on for a week or longer. By this time it is not difficult or painful to take off. You can make one strap long enough to go around from one cheek bone to the other, and perhaps that is better. When the strap is removed, place it a little higher or a little lower down next time. Straps aren't very beautiful adornments, but they are preferable to belligerent ears. Your baby when he is grown up will bless you for having used them. Little tape or net caps are made for this purpose, but I prefer the adhesive straps. Then

Betrothal Party

Announcement of the betrothal of Miss Alberta Stoddard, teacher at the Broadway school, to Hollis Weaver, Moysse, of 322 Harvard street, was made Saturday at a luncheon given at the home of the bride-elect, 5158 Highland View avenue, Eagle Rock. Guests at the party were college friends of Miss Stoddard from Pomona college. The luncheon table was attractively decorated in blue and white, the college colors. A basket of white chrysanthemums and blue cornflowers was used to carry out the color scheme in an effective manner. A large paper football had been placed in the center of the table and in this were placed smaller footballs with blue and white ribbons running to the place of each guest. Inside the smaller football was found a heart bearing names of Miss Stoddard and Mr. Moysse. Hand-made placecards with a flag and the name "Pomona" and blue and white nut cups were added decorations. After the luncheon the party attended the football game between Occidental and Pomona colleges. Miss Stoddard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Stoddard of 5158 Highland View avenue, Eagle Rock. She graduated from Pomona college in June, 1924. Mr. Moysse is the son of George U. Moysse, principal of the Glendale High school. He is employed with the Technicolor Film Co. in Hollywood. Their marriage will take place in December. Guests at the party were: Mrs. W. H. Riekel, history; Miss Ida Gundersen, writing and spelling; Miss Pearl Webster, arithmetic; Mrs. Aicholtz, cafeteria; Miss Mildred L. Chramiski, Spanish. Musical selections were given by pupils of the eighth grade at the school. Mrs. Arthur Franklin, president of the association directed the business meeting, when it was reported that $86 had been made by the association at the cafeteria; $14.50 at a silver tea; and $18 from a benefit by the Dobinson Players. This money was made during the month of November and will be used for association purposes. Mrs. R. A. Gulick, patriotic chairman, directed the salute at the opening of the meeting with one verse of "America" was sung under the leadership of Mrs. Kent, music teacher. A letter from Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club, was read and the members voted to endorse the rendition of "The Messiah," December 16. A letter from Mrs. Bradford, state president of Parent-Teacher associations, was read, asking the members to keep "Golden Rule Sunday," December 7, by eating a simple meal on that date, and sending the money saved to the Near East relief fund. A flood light will be bought by the association for the Wilson school auditorium. Sheets and pillow cases will be bought for philanthropy work in Glendale. The next meeting will be in January.

The old housekeeper will not need help in planning her Thanksgiving dinner. But the bride may find the following suggestions useful:

Menu: Celery, Tomato Bisque, Roast Stuffed Turkey, Brown Gravy, Glazed Sweet Potatoes, White Potato Cake, Boiled Onions, Cranberry Jelly, Lettuce with Russian Dressing, Pumpkin Pie, Mince Pie, Assorted Fruits, Nuts and Coffee. (This menu will also appear Wednesday, but I give it here so that the housekeeper may plan for it in advance.)

Every cook book gives recipes for making tomato bisque, for glazing sweet potatoes, boiling onions and making cranberry jelly, mince and pumpkin pies. Therefore, I am going to devote today's chat to cooking the turkey, which I no doubt do in a slightly different way from conventional cook-book methods.

How I Roast Turkey: Have your butcher dress and clean a ten-pound cock turkey. When you get it home stuff it with the following:

stirring in the hot milk and water in which the butter has been melting. Add the salt, mix well, and stuff the crop with it. If you have any left over, use it in the back of the turkey. Fill the rest of the back with the following: Potato Stuffing: Mash eight large, hot, boiled potatoes and add to them one-half cup of melted butter, one cup of sweet cream, three beaten eggs, two large raw onions finely chopped, one teaspoon of salt and a pinch of pepper. Beat well before using to stuff the bird.

You have now stuffed the turkey. Place it on its side on a rack in the dripping pan, rub its entire surface with salt, then brush its breast, wings and legs with one-half cup of butter softened and mixed with one-third cup of flour. Dredge pan-bottom with more flour, slip the pan into a hot oven, and when the flour on the bird begins to brown add two cups of boiling water. Roast for three hours, basting every 15 minutes with a mixture of one-half cup of boiling water and one-half cup of melted butter. During the last hour, baste with the pan-liquid instead of this. If the bird browns too rapidly cover it with brown paper.

Many women do not have the extra white potato on the table when they use the potato stuffing. If you wish both, simply double the recipe for potato turkey stuffing but, instead of using all in the bird, put one-half of it in a mound on a pan and bake till brown (one-half hour) in a hot oven.

The Wrath To Come

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM, Copyright 1924

CHAPTER XXVIII

"If I were your age," Lord Yeovil declared, helping himself to omelette unselfishly, and yet with discretion, "there is nothing in this world which would prevent my being in love with the Princess."

"I am glad that you recognize my difficulties," Grant said gratefully.

"Experience has such a charm for the very young," Susan observed, a little sarcastically.

"After all, it's rather a relief," Grant observed, looking round the room, "to be free for an hour or two from this little host of intriguers. Here we are with a crowd of strangers, amongst whom I only recognize our very excellent friend Baron Funderstrom, the Scandinavian. None of the others are here. I fancy that this atmosphere is a little too bracing for them. We are in a different world. Intrigue up here is unknown—except the intrigue of cutting in."

"Dashed annoying intrigue, too, when it comes off," Lord Yeovil grumbled. "Are you two young people going to play again? Because, I tell you frankly that I am not. I'll send the car back for you with pleasure. A nap in my study for the next hour or two is the thing which appeals to me most."

"Just as Lady Susan wishes," Grant said, looking towards her. "I should like another round, unless it bores you," she decided. Their final round was played in the brilliant declining sunlight of a perfect Riviera afternoon.

The wind had dropped and brought no longer icy reminiscences from the snow-clad Alps. The air, though keen, was sweet and laden with the fragrance of the trees in blossom, which fringed the slopes of the hills. More than once they paused to look downwards. Susan was, for her, a little listless.

"I don't think you're really enjoying the Riviera this year," he remarked.

"I'm not sure that I am," she admitted. "Somehow or other, from the moment we arrived, we seem to have lived in an unfamiliar atmosphere. I can't explain it. Baron Nagas's death seemed to be part of it. Dad bluffs most beautifully but he is all the time nervous and on edge. You—although I don't know what you have to do with it all—seem to be living half in this world and half in some other."

you won't talk about. Arthur has the air of a man about to commit suicide. The Lancasters are the only normal people, and perhaps that is because they are brainless. What's it all about, Grant? Have you really lost your head about this old sweetheart of yours? And is there really any cause for Dad to worry? All these politicians who come to call are so delightfully amiable and polite that one can't realize that they may not be absolutely sincere."

"I'm not going to try and bluff to you, Lady Susan," Grant said seriously. "I'm afraid there may be trouble afoot. We can't quite get to grips with it, but it's there. We have indications of it, and warnings from all sorts of unsuspected quarters. Personally, I think your father is in a very awkward position. You see the great difficulty is that, however hard he tries, he can't find out exactly how things really do stand. When the Pact was inaugurated, all the nations started trusting one another. They dropped secret treaties and secret understandings and swept the whole of their Secret Service departments into the four corners of the world—that is to say, the honest ones did. Consequently, now there's trouble about, we don't know where to turn."

"But you," she protested. "You're out of it all. You're not even English. Why are you so disturbed?"

He smiled as he watched his ball go over a bunker. "Let it alone, Lady Susan," he begged. "You're the one person outside it all. Stop outside for a time. If the trouble comes, you will hear of it fast enough."

She was not altogether satisfied. "Is it my fancy," she asked, "or am I being treated like some one just emerged from the nursery?"

"My dear Lady Susan," he pointed out, "it wouldn't do a bit of good to be let into your father's worries or mine. And they very likely don't amount to anything, after all."

She shrugged her shoulders. "Do you talk like this to the Princess?" she queried. He smiled.

"I should certainly not tell the Princess the things you are asking me," he assured her. "I suppose I am a cat," Susan reflected, "but I don't like the Princess."

"You'll like her when you know her better," he ventured.

"I don't want to know her any better," she declared. "She seems to be the sort of woman who makes use of people. That's what I can't help thinking about you, and her, and Arthur."

"What use can she make of us?" he asked. "She wants to get to know things, for the sake of that husband of hers, I suppose. It's all they finished the round almost in silence, and their conversation over tea was negligible. Susan, after all, was a creature of impulses. These purgatorial days through which he and the others were passing, meant nothing to her. She might fail to make allowance for them. She was always surrounded by young men, and, for the moment at any rate, she was seriously annoyed with him."

"Lady Susan," he began. "Mr. Slattery."

"I thought it was always 'Grant,'" he remonstrated. "I have heard myself called 'Susan,'" she reminded him.

"Look here, then, Susan," he commenced. "We seem to have got wrong somehow. I don't like it. I want to be friends."

"My dear man," she protested, "have I shown any signs of quarrelling with you?"

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE TURKEY

"Well, Uncle Wiggily, hadn't you better go after him?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzie, as she looked at the rabbit gentleman, seated upside down in his easy chair one morning.

"Do you mean go after the Fuzzy Fox? Is he in here again?" asked the bunny gentleman, turning a somersault and sitting down right side up in his chair. The reason he sometimes sat upside down was because he became tired of sitting down right side up.

"Of course the Fuzzy Fox isn't here in your bungalow!" laughed Nurse Jane. "I wouldn't let him come in. Besides, have you forgotten how, yesterday, you threw stones at him when he tore your bag of Thanksgiving cranberries?"

"That's right!" laughed the rabbit, "but whom do you mean I am to go after?"

"The Turkey, of course," answered Nurse Jane. "You know we always invite him to our Thanksgiving dinner and it will soon be time for that. So hop along to the Turkey's coop."

"I shall," said Mr. Longears. So putting on his pink, twinkling nose—oh, excuse me—I mean putting on his tall silk hat, away hopped the bunny uncle over the fields and through the woods. "Tat-tat-tat," he knocked on the door of the coop where Mr. Turkey Gobbler lived. In the summer Mr. Gobbler roosted in a tree, but toward winter he went to his coop, which was warmer.

"Come in," gobbled the Turkey.

In hopped the bunny uncle. "I came to invite you to come to my bungalow to spend Thanksgiving," said the rabbit gentleman. "Nurse Jane and I want you to sit at the head of the table."

"Thank you," gobbled the Turkey. "I shall come." He gobbled his words but not his food, which would not have been polite, of course.

So Uncle Wiggily and the Turkey set out together toward the hollow stump bungalow, but they had not gone far before the Bob Cat, shaking his silly little tail, saw them from the top of a hill.

"Ah, ha! This is where I catch Uncle Wiggily for my Thanksgiving dinner," meowed the Bob Cat, shaking his silly little tail.

Down the hill ran the bad chap after Uncle Wiggily. But, as it happened, a kind, spotted Squiggle Bug, who loved Uncle Wiggily, had heard what the Bob Cat said.

"I'll fly on and warn him," said the Squiggle Bug. And as he reached the rabbit, who was hopping beside the Turkey, the Squiggle Bug whispered, "Look out for the Bob Cat. He's coming."

gobble. "I shall come." He gobbled his words but not his food, which would not have been polite, of course.

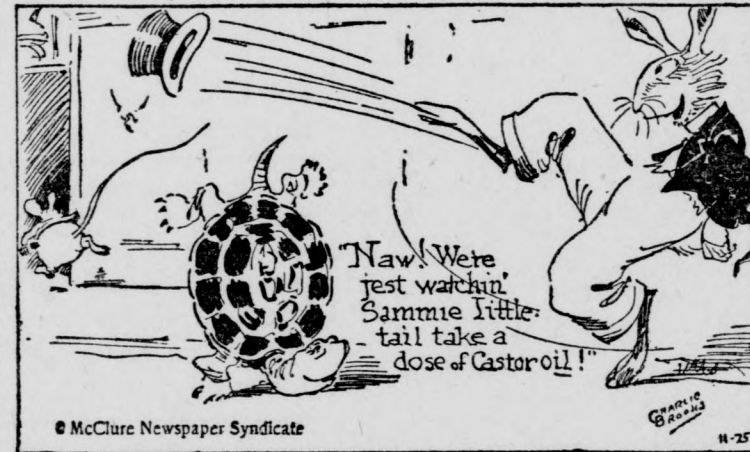

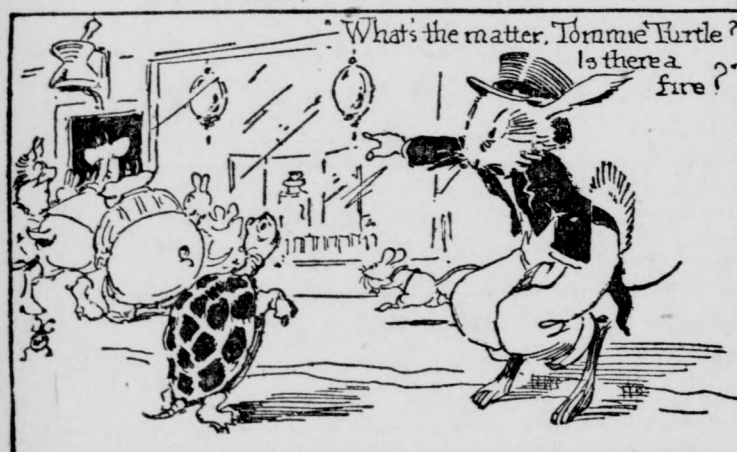

"Oh, what shall I do?" sighed the rabbit.

"Here. Get under my wings!" whispered the Turkey. The Gobbler bird puffed out his chest and fluffed his wings, letting them drag down on the ground like partitions that are too long for the doorway. Beneath the Gobbler's wings was plenty of room for the rabbit to hide, and Uncle Wiggily crawled under the feathers. Up ran the Bob Cat.

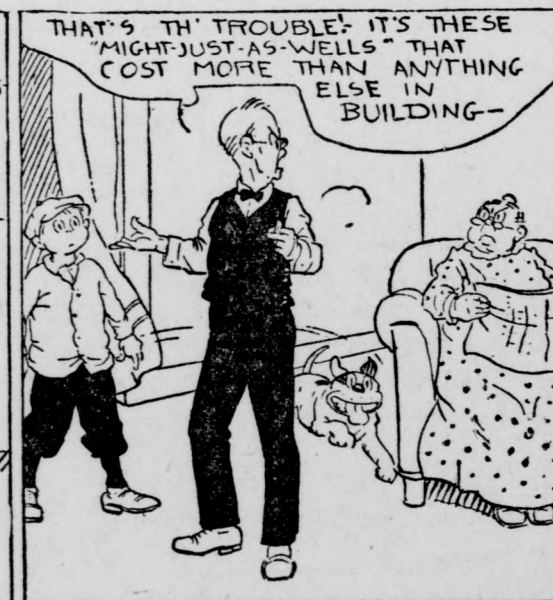

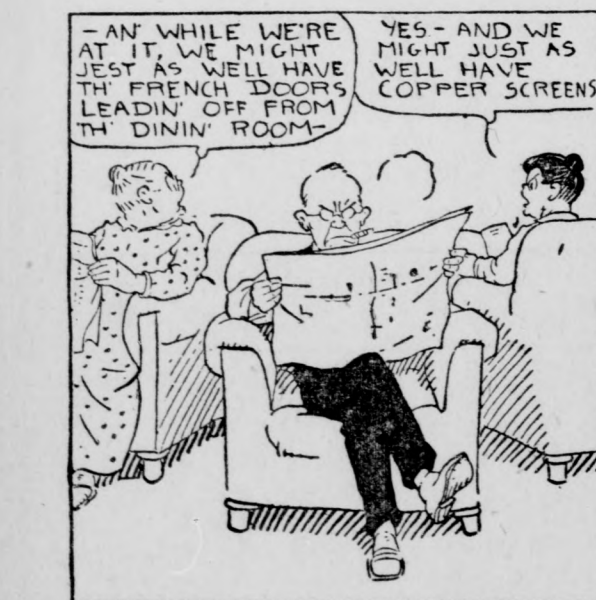

"Where's Uncle Wiggily?" he howled. "I want him for my Thanksgiving dinner. Where's Uncle Wiggily?"

"Just as if I'd tell you!" cried the Turkey. "Now you run home."

and time of delivery of these city standards we adopted last Thursday?"

Mr. Diederich: "I have the prices on cost. The matter of delivery will have to be taken up later."

Six Months Time

Councilman Kimlin: "How long will it take to make delivery?" Mr. Diederich: "About four months, regardless of what type of post is used."

Councilman S. A. Davis: "And how long after that before the posts could be put in?"

Mr. Diederich: "Another two months, or six months in all."

Councilman Kimlin: "Is the lantern type of globe expensive?" Mr. Diederich: "Yes, the most expensive of the market. Those globes cost $59 a pair."

Calls for Vote

Mayor Robinson: "It's like a fellow paying $10 for a pair of pants and then having to pay $15 for a pair of suspenders to hold them up!"

Councilman Kimlin: "I have made up my mind how I am going to vote on this measure."

Councilman Davis: "Then vote and let's adjourn."

The vote was then taken—but before the motion to adjourn could be put, Wayne Alles, a representative of Foster & Kleiser, billboard advertisers, appeared, and immediately disrupted the council with the statement that he had been assured that body would take up the matter of the amended billboard ordinance this morning.

To Discuss Billboards

"If you take up this matter today," declared Councilman Davis, jumping to his feet and flashing his eyes from one member of the council to another, "you violate an agreement made with me in the committee of the whole."

It was finally agreed that consideration of the billboard ordinance would be made the first matter of business at the session set for 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, December 2.

The council authorized Chairman L. W. Chobe of the Chamber of Commerce float committee to erect a temporary structure at 425 East Broadway, for the purpose of building the float that will officially represent the city of Glendale at the Pasadena "Tournament of Roses" on January 1, 1925.

Paving Proceedings

The council voted to start proceedings for the paving of Merrill avenue, leading from Sierra avenue to the Glendale sanitarium. The hearing on establishment of a commercial district at Canada boulevard and Verdugo road was set before the City Planning commission for December 1 and before the City Council for December 11. An ordinance was offered abandoning proceedings for the opening of Ruberta avenue. Hearings on assessments for improvement of Columbus avenue and for opening and widening of Chester street and Pioneer drive were started and bonds for the improvement of Stealey and Sinclair avenues were voted.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Children make constipation a habit— relieve them with Kellogg's Bran

Children punish themselves terribly by ignoring nature's demands. They bring constipation upon themselves. They invite the many other diseases which can be traced to constipation. Immediate steps should be taken to rid them and keep them free from this disease.

It takes ALL bran to be 100 per cent effective. That's what Kellogg's is—ALL bran. That's why doctors everywhere recommend Kellogg's. That's why Kellogg's Bran carries a money-back guarantee to bring permanent relief, if eaten regularly, in the most chronic cases of constipation. That's why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbed, has brought glorious, glowing health to thousands—because it is ALL bran.

No matter how long one has suffered with constipation, Kellogg's Bran will bring permanent relief IF EATEN EVERY DAY—at least two tablespoons—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Kellogg's Bran is delicious. It has a crisp, nut-like flavor that simply delights the taste. It is a wonderful surprise if one has been used to ordinary, unpalatable bran.

There are many ways to serve Kellogg's Bran. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Look for the recipes on every package and try it in muffins, bread, griddle cakes, etc.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbed, is made in Battle Creek and is sold by grocers everywhere. It is served by the leading hotels and clubs.

Arizona Racing Called As Betting Shows Lull

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 25.—Lack of play at pari-mutuel betting machines was assigned as the reason for today's cancellation of the second annual meeting here of the Arizona jockey club. A majority of the owners of 500 horses and 200 race track employees are stranded here without funds, while the jockey club was said to have sustained a $20,000 loss. Many of the horse owners were attempting to raise funds today to send their horses to Tia Juana, where a meeting opens Thursday.

Realty Board Host at Open Forum Meeting

the newspaper, that they are interdependent and have many things in common.

Do Public Work

"Like many other kinds of business, the real estate game and the newspaper are both dependent upon the growth of the community. They must be partners in community building. Both the realtor and the newspaper must have considerable public enterprise and do a great deal of work for which they receive no direct returns. Both must do work unselfishly for public projects that may mean little to them personally and directly. The realtor spends much time with prospects who do not buy. And there is much work and expense in publishing a newspaper for which there is no return.

"I can truthfully state, that in Glendale the realtor and the newspaper have worked hand-in-hand in community building. Other agencies have done their share, but it cannot be denied the co-operation between the realtor and the newspaper has been profitable to the community. "Without the realtor, activity in buying and selling property would be at a low ebb, values would continue at a low level, and vacant tracts would remain undeveloped. Without the newspaper to give publicity to these deals, both in the way of news and advertising, the realtor would find himself greatly handicapped.

Newspaper Needed

"The realtor needs the newspaper to tell the people what he can do, and the newspaper needs the realtor, not alone for the business he gives the paper, but because he is a community asset and helps to keep things moving.

"The realtor and the newspaper both succeed according to their ability as salesmen. The newspaper must sell itself. It can succeed only as it shows itself to be a real purveyor of news, a community booster and an efficient advertising medium. Likewise the realtor must sell himself to a prospect before he can sell any property.

"The real estate business is often spoken of as the real estate game. This is a very expressive term in this connection. The real estate man's work is mere play. It is like that. If he catches you, you are IT. Now the newspaper game is entirely different. It is more like football, for it requires both brains and strength.

"The profits of both the realtor and the newspaper are in inverse ratio to the amount of investment and the value of the equipment. The realtor buys a chair and a desk and he is ready for business. After a few years he removes his feet from the desk and retires with a fortune, and a great many friends. The newspaper man spends a fortune for equipment and after many years of hard work goes penniless to an early grave, unwept, unhonored and unused."

Council Next Hosts

Secretary Howard I. Wood of the Chamber of Commerce spoke briefly, expressing his satisfaction at the growth and activity of the chamber since he became connected with it several months ago. He pledged his untiring efforts to advance the chamber and Glendale, generally, in the future.

At the conclusion of the program, Mayor Robinson announced that next month's forum dinner will be under the auspices of the City Council "assisted by the Honorable Mayor." He invited the town.

The dinner was held at the Tuesday afternoon clubhouse and started promptly at 6:15 o'clock. Charles W. Pearson was chairman of the Realty board committee in charge. A special dinner committee composed of Miss Anna C. Venneman, Miss Leonore Jones and Miss Viola Sayre, all members of the board assisted in the preparation of the dinner.

Supervisors Reject All Bids on Flood Control

bids. These bids, together with bids for the open ditch, were rejected yesterday by the board of supervisors because, in the words of Supervisor Henry W. Wright: "After the board had heard both sides of the argument, it became satisfied that the tunnel plan would not carry and did not want to vote in favor of the open ditch until the people of Glendale had had another opportunity to get together and present a united front for one plan or the other."

Different Aspect

A provision of the Los Angeles county flood control act of 1915 that puts a different aspect on the matter was pointed out by City Attorney Morrow. This provision makes it necessary for the plans and specifications of any Los Angeles county flood control work in any municipality of the county to be first approved by the legislative body of such municipality, before the commencement of work, and before any contracts are let.

Inasmuch as the approval of the city of Glendale has not been obtained on the proposed control of the Sanmore and Verdugo canyon flood waters, it is believed by Mr. Morrow that had the board of supervisors voted yesterday to adopt one plan or the other, and had they awarded contracts, they would have violated this provision of the 1915 flood control act; and it is the opinion of Mr. Morrow that this approval will have to be obtained before the board can adopt a plan that will make it possible for the $450,000 to be spent.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

There is sadness in this old world of ours. Antonio Corsi, resident of Eagle Rock, and one time noted model of artists, is bying—a penniless old man—and he has nothing to sell but the art treasures in which he found fame. His is the tragic lesson written for the healthy to always prepare for the days to come.

A girl is dying in Riverside county with a bullet hole in her neck. She was shot by an immigration officer stopping motorists on an inland road. Her young man escort mistook him for a highwayman. Another lesson for our government to insist on less gun-play by officers when it is not vital.

Kid McCoy—facing trial for the alleged murder of Mrs. Teresa Mors—yesterday afternoon sat in a little church at the very gates of Glendale and heard the last words of condolence said for his mother, who died of grief. The Kid (Norman Selby) failed to say a word, or shed a tear, and yet there is no doubt in the world but what he would gladly have given his life for hers. Another lesson for the man who leaves the narrow path for shady lanes.

Moralizing is no nice task, yet some men do it or two along this line saves nine of bitter remorse. One cannot change the world, perhaps, but some individuals can be made to see the errors in their ways.

A person is not "good" just for the sake of being "good." He isn't temperate because he is temperate. He is not a saint because of the emotion, for there is little or none to be enjoyed. It not only seems dull, but actually is drear, to follow the straight and narrow path—a path which doesn't lead to the insane asylum, where there's lots of excitement, or the prison, where there's lots of scheming to make an easy living. Reading good magazines instead of trashy literature bodes one improvement, and so on—sissy talk, nothing hardboiled about it, but soft-boiled eggs are more healthful.

But what's the use of spilling this stuff?—you won't read it and remember it, if you don't agree with the writer; and you don't need it if you do.

Without seeming rhyme or reason the Pacific Electric's bus service schedule after midnight has been hopelessly muddled, residents of the Kennelth road district have learned since November 20.

Yes, they are left standing cool as cucumbers on the corner of Broadway and Brand boulevard after midnight with no recourse but to walk.

The last bus to the northwest section connects with the 11:30 car line. The bus line which formerly ran to Kennelth road has been routed to Sylmar canyon, where "somebody's little subdivision" is located, no doubt.

This writer would like to know by what authority the Pacific Electric bus lines changed their schedule, who asked for the change, and will all the residents of Northwest Glendale please stand up for their rights?

East Bay Cities Held In Milk War Deadlock

OAKLAND, Nov. 25.—The East Bay milk war continued unabated today after one week's hostilities. Both producers and distributors expressed their determination not to yield an inch. The producers are determined not to sell milk until they are guaranteed a price of 29 cents a gallon as against the former rate of from 17 to 24 cents, which they said was "sold" to their business. They added that as a result of their curtailment the milk supply in the affected area has been only thirty per cent of normal.

This is disputed by the distributors, who claim that a normal supply is being furnished from milk secured from independent outside sources. Several further instances of violence have been reported to the police, including the stopping of independent trucks and the dumping of their milk supplies. The week's casualties included the shooting and wounding of two dairymen near Stockton. One driver today told the Oakland authorities he had been fired upon yesterday on a highway leading into Oakland.

Southern Pacific Road Loses Suit for Damage

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The Southern Pacific railway lost today in the United States supreme court a suit to recover compensation for injuries to its right of way along the shore between the towns of Bar View and Garibaldi, Ore., resulting from construction by the United States of a breakwater on the north side of the entrance to Tillamook bay, Ore., from the Pacific ocean.

Wife's Head Nearly Cut Off In Murder Mystery

BALTIMORE, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Barbara Klein, 48, was nearly decapitated with a razor and then mutilated with a flatiron in her home here on Monday, while her three young children watched the tragedy and screamed for help in the same room. John Matlak, 51, said by police to be the father of the children, is held here charged with the murder.

Sorrowing Parents See 'Meanest Man' In Jail

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 25.—The "meanest" man who preyed upon the sorrow of anguished parents to extort money from them through promises of sending back their lost relatives, is J. F. Williams, according to federal authorities, who is behind prison bars here today. Williams known by half a dozen aliases, operated all over the country in his game of capitalizing on the heartaches of parents who advertised for word of a long-lost son or daughter.

Oil Production Takes Slump Under Last Year

BARTELSVILLE, Okla., Nov. 25.—Lentine R. Carlisle, manager of the foreign oil department of the H. L. Hokeby Co., declares that oil production this year will show a decrease of seven million barrels as compared with an increase of 68,000,000 barrels last year. He estimates there is enough oil above ground to supply world needs for six months.

Playwright's Sickness Shrouded In Mystery

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Willard Mack, playwright, was in the Mount Vernon hospital today with secrecy surrounding the nature of his illness. A report that Mack had lost the sight of one eye was denied by friends. The general report in circulation was that Mack was being treated for bronchial pneumonia.

THREE GLENDALE TEAMS IN PLAYOFF THIS WEEK

Fleaweights Playing This Afternoon; Class B Team Meets Huntington Park Thursday Afternoon; Heavyweights Saturday

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, Jr.
Of The Evening News Staff

Glendale's three teams are on the grid schedule for post-season games this week. The Class C or fleaweights, are playing against Pasadena this afternoon; Class B or lightweights meet Huntington Park here Thursday afternoon, and Class A or heavyweights meet Colton.

The original schedule called for Van Nuys and Glendale Class A teams to play here Thursday as a result of the tie game played here last Friday afternoon when each team scored a touchdown but failed to kick goal. To avoid a heavy schedule for either team, a new plan was devised by H. J. Moore, vice-principal of the Long Beach High school, and manager of the Southern California play-off.

Add Another Team
It was decided to put another team into the second round of the play-off, making eight teams to play. Four teams will be eliminated this week, two next week and one the following week, the survivor being crowned champion of Southern California. Accordingly, Colton was selected as the eighth team.

The present schedule for this week is: Sweetwater plays Orange at Orange; Compton plays Pomona at Pomona; Glendale plays Colton at Glendale, and Van Nuys plays Santa Maria at Santa Maria. Next week the winner of the Orange-Sweetwater game meets the winner of the Compton-Pomona game, and the winner of the Glendale-Colton game meets the winner of the Van Nuys-Santa Maria game. Winning teams next week will play for the title the following week.

In the lightweight schedule, Glendale, after eliminating San Bernardino 14 to 0 last Saturday, meets Huntington Park here Thursday afternoon. Pasadena, which eliminated Burbank 75 to 0 last Saturday, draws a bye this week, and the winner of the Glendale-Huntington Park game meets Pasadena next week in the finals.

Good Kicker Needed
Coach Hayhurst is having a pack of trouble in finding someone who can place or drop kick. Bud Elliott, who has been attempting it during the season, seems to be unable to put 'em over after he gets outside of the twenty-five yard line.

It was not Bud's fault, however, that his kick for the extra point did not go over for the winning score last Friday, for the kick, though a perfect one, was muffed by one of the Haymakers who got through the Glendale defense. It is seldom that this has happened as the locals have nearly always kept their opponents from being dangerous, the main fault being with the kicker.

Both of the Lovell brothers, Allie and Johnny, who do the place kicking for the fleaweight and lightweight teams respectively, are wizards on place kicks. Both are good for one goal out of two tries at the most within the thirty-five yard mark unless some member of the teams gums the play.

Lundie May Kick
It may be possible that Charles Lundie, the rangy substitute tackle, will get into the next game long enough to try his hand at punting. Lundie is by far the best punter in the squad as to height and distance, but his slowness in getting the kick away causes Hayhurst to be afraid to risk him. Lundie has been practicing all this week.

Bud Elliott will probably start the game at quarter, with Elmer Muff and Dick Ryan at halves, and Carl Denney at full, Elliott, who dislocated his ankle Friday, is all right now, as is Denney, who was out for the most part of the Central league schedule with a sore hip.

The Dynamiters' left side of the line will line up the same as ever, with Les Lavelle at end, Louis Dotson at tackle, Marion Morrison at guard, and Zann at center. Either Ray Green or Dixon Fannon will play right guard, either Droopy Phillips, Bill Bradbury or Charles Lundie at tackle, and Ellsworth de Pareo or Phillips at end.

Lightweights Thursday
Coaches Butterfield and Hicks are getting the lightweights in shape for their hardest game, when the Class B team meets Huntington Park here Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. For three consecutive years Huntington Park has won the state championship in the Class B division, and the local lightweights are anxious to take these laurels away from the Huntington Park squad.

Glendale's lightweight team has established a record in football for the season that will make all high school, college and university teams travel some to beat it. The record is given elsewhere on this page.

After putting last Saturday's game with San Bernardino on the

Some Record

Here is a record for other teams to shoot at, either high school or college. The record was made by the Glendale class B team in five league games:

Opponents made only eight first downs.

Five of eight first downs made on passes, two on end runs and one back through the line.

Goal line never crossed during league season by opponents.

No drop kick or place kick ever sent over crossbar by opponents.

Only one team ever had ball within Glendale's 40-yard line. This team was South Pasadena, given the ball on the three-yard line when player interfered with receiver of forward pass.

South Pasadena failed to make three yards in four downs.

San Bernardino made only four first downs against Glendale in the first round of the Southern California play-off, and never had the ball in its possession within Glendale's 30-yard line.

The teams Glendale defeated in the Central league schedule and the scores made against them are: Citrus, 17-0; Monrovia, 21-0; Alhambra, 5-0; Covina, 17-0; South Pasadena, 23-0; Glendale points, 83; opponents, 0.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Arrangements that Rickard is trying to make with heavyweights indicate that he and Luis Firpo have come to the parting of the ways. With Tex's influence in abeyance, the throwback to a pre-historic age will find the going rough and headed always toward a pier where the Argentine boat lies with steam up ready for departure to the Pampas.

And when Luis walks up the gangplank he will realize that it would have paid to stay in the traces and followed instructions. Not a small amount of credit for Weinert's victory over Firpo goes to Bill McCartney, who will manage the Adonis in the future. McCartney drilled "Keep your left in his face," "stay away and box him," into Charley's ears all through the bout and the advice was followed to the letter.

Watch Weinert. He is certain to come into quite a prominent place in the sporting prints from now on. Will he earn it? Stop fooling. The genius will be the clever, the versatile, the undaunted McCartney who once in Philly advertised a bull fight, drew a big crowd, trotted out a steer from the nearest slaughter house and then enacted the Toreador scene from Carmen.

The spectators laughed so heartily that no one asked for a refund on his ticket.

Culver City Speedway Postpones Its Opening

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—Opening of the new $1,000,000 speedway at Culver City here scheduled for Thanksgiving with a 250-mile race has been postponed until December 7, owing to the fact the big pine tureen will not be completed until today. Race officials said two days time for practice in the bowl was insufficient and for that reason, a postponement was made.

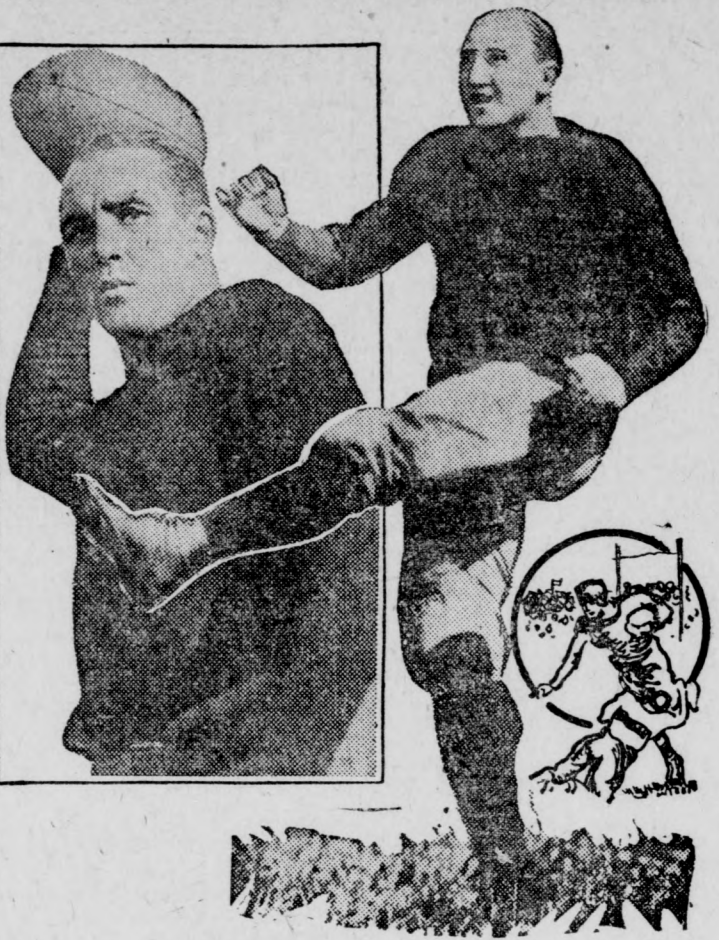

Tommy Milton, Eddie Hearne, Earl Cooper, Ralph De Palma, Jerry Wonderlich and Cliff Durant, millionaire driver, will work out in the speedway Wednesday.

Simoon, the Syrian monk, lived on top of a marble column 60 feet high for 30 years.

Ice, by means of two touchdowns, in the first half, the lightweights played in a safety first way during the second half, on account of the intense heat. Both teams kicked on the first or second down. This kept the ball in mid-field most of the time. Glendale outplayed San Bernardino, one Glendale punt going for seventy yards. The boys are all in first-class condition, as there were none that received injuries in the San Bernardino game.

Display Wares On Coast

JOHN McBRIDE, left, of Syracuse, will be seen in Los Angeles on December 6 against U. S. C., and AL KRUEZ, fullback for the University of Pennsylvania, who will play against California at Berkeley on January 1. Both are crack kickers and are leading eastern players in points via toe.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—No matter what course may be followed by the American league in regard to the proposal for shortening the training season, there is very little possibility that the national league will change its rule allowing the clubs a full month of practice if they want it.

The New York Giants, it is pointed out, have been among the most insistent advocates of long training and as the Giants have been the most successful club in the league in recent years, their say-so as to how winning teams are made carries weight.

Some owners think that if other national clubs took longer training periods and did not spend so much time playing spring exhibition games, they would play better ball. The second division teams of late certainly have not been affected by overtraining.

Ever since the Giants inaugurated some years ago the idea of playing exhibition games on the way north in co-operation with some American league club, almost all the clubs in both leagues have attempted, with more or less success, to follow suit. A lot of these clubs undoubtedly would be better off physically, and not much worse off financially if they stayed a little longer in the south and then headed straight for home.

In any event Manager McGraw of the Giants, may be counted on to combat vigorously any effort to curtail the training season. He is a stickler for time enough to bring his players around into form and also to develop something like team work before the season starts. He always brings his team north in the pink of condition and thus has gained a lead over the opposition that has netted more than one pennant.

Somewhat years ago when an economy wave struck some of the owners of the National league and they managed to cut down the training period, McGraw opposed it strenuously but to no avail. However, he managed to get some of his players to work early and when the season began his team was usual was about two weeks ahead of the others, with one exception.

Other managers, who have observed the McGraw tactics year after year, now are converts to his idea of early and long training, and any effort to curtail the spring season undoubtedly will be checked by their influence with their bosses.

SPEED STARS IN BIG ROAD RACE

250-Mile Contest Thursday To Bring Out Number Of Noted Pilots

After a lapse of many years, road racing is to be resumed in California next Thursday, when the Ascot 250 miles, gold cup road race will be contested. Seventy-six entries have been received for the event, being by far the largest number of nominations ever made for a motor race in the history of the gasoline speed sport.

When adverse legislation in California and many other states doomed the sport of racing over roadways, the dyed-in-the-wool speed fans who had gained their education in auto racing matters felt that nothing could replace the atmosphere and scenes surrounding the running of the Vanderbilt cup, Corona, Santa Monica, Elgin and Grand Prize races.

The announcement of the Ascot association last spring that it would stage a road race for a huge purse over a privately owned road course, five miles around, was received with a display of pessimism by manufacturers, dealers and private owners. But sentiment was soon swayed when it was found that the race would become a reality, with the biggest automobile race entry list ever filed.

Increase Starters
The large number of entries, each entrant having gone to much expense to prepare his car, caused the Ascot officials to change the maximum number of starters in the race from the thirty originally specified to forty.

It was decided that the five-mile circuit of winding, twisting, up and down hill road is wide enough to permit forty cars to negotiate the course with comparative ease. The cars will be started in pairs ten seconds apart, those starting behind other cars to be given credit for the elapsed time.

The entry list contains the names of many noted road race and mountain climber drivers and most of the prominent dirt track and paved speedway stars. Ascot officials declare that the event is far too big for the featuring of any particular star or stars.

Recalls Old Days
"The event will prove the most spectacular, the most mammoth road race ever staged," is the prediction of George Bentel, president of Ascot's board. "The story and semi-stock car has again come into its own with the return of road racing. The old-time motor enthusiast will again have the opportunity to camp alongside a road racing course and roam over the circuit as he did in the early Vanderbilt cup and Santa Monica race days. The huge crowd of more recently recruited members of the great army of speed fans will have that opportunity for the first time at Ascot on Thanksgiving day.

Three-fourths of the course may be viewed from the grandstand and field stand seats. Those occupying such seating accommodations will have the privilege of leaving their seats and roaming over the circuit. The crests of several hills within a roadway afford from the "top of the world," an unobstructed view of the entire course.

Parking Parties
Many dealers have reserved space on these hills for the gathering of owners of their make cars. Also the hills will be used by many "parking parties" with picnic basket features being included.

Six scoreboards and information headquarters will be maintained, so that each of the 100,000 or more spectators expected to attend can ascertain, at any time, the standing of the contestants, the number of laps traveled and the average speed of the leaders.

The race will start at 10 o'clock in the morning, the gates opening at daylight. The seats in the grandstand are all reserved, but the field stands, which will seat thousands, will be open on the "first come, first served, basis. A moderate charge will be made for admission of automobiles to parking space along the racing course, with an admission fee of $1.50 for passengers, children, however, being admitted for 50 cents.

FOOTBALL QUESTION BOX

If you have some question to ask about football—If you want a rule interpreted—If you want to know anything about a play—Write Lawrence Perry, for fifteen years an authority on the game as writer and official. If you want a personal reply enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Otherwise your question will be answered in this column.

ADDRESS: Lawrence Perry, Special Football Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, 814 World Building, New York.

Copyright, 1924, by Evening News. QUESTION—Suppose an end going down the field to take a forward pass runs down the field out of bounds and then steps back onto the field and takes the pass. Is that legal?

ANSWER—No. Five yards penalty. QUESTION—If a team has the ball on the side of the field, right against the sideline, and wishes to make a place kick from this angle, it is obvious that the kicker, holder of the ball will be out of bounds. Is this permissible?

ANSWER—Yes, under 12 section 1. QUESTION—A punt strikes a player of the punting side. May it then be recovered by members of the punting side?

ANSWER—No. Punted ball may be recovered in this case because of the rule which states that no player of the kicking side may touch the ball after it has crossed the line of scrimmage until after it touches an opponent. If a punter drives the ball into his own line, i.e., not over the line of scrimmage, then it is common property.

Gas Range To Be Given Away

Window display of Coker & Taylor, 209 South Brand boulevard, plumbers, showing gas range to be given free to winner of contest in cooking school. Drawing takes place tomorrow, Wednesday, afternoon.

Mrs. Coolidge Christens Dirigible 'Los Angeles'

city and nearby Maryland and Virginia towns, and permitted a further demonstration of the smoothness with which she was being handled by her American crew in her first trip under their control.

This afternoon, according to schedule, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, the first lady of the land, will pull a silken cord leading to one of the gondolas, after the ship has been placed in the hands of the ground crew at Bolling field, and a trap door will fall, releasing a score of pigeons to wing their way back to Lakehurst.

Big Turkey Aboard
"I will christen this Los Angeles," will be her words, before the dirigible rises again to start the homeward trip.

A silver miniature of the air liner, attached to the silk cord which releases the pigeons, will be Mrs. Coolidge's souvenir.

Another gift to the White House was aboard the dirigible as it headed south. It was a large turkey, destined for the presidential Thanksgiving dinner.

As one of the features of a cooking school being held every Wednesday and Friday from 2 to 4 p. m. by Coker & Taylor, 209 South Brand boulevard, a $124 gas range with Lorain oven heat control will be given free to some woman tomorrow afternoon.

The cooking school is a regular department of the Coker & Taylor firm and will be continued throughout the year. Mrs. Vera Olmstead Hamilton, 125 South Isabel street, is in charge, and the lessons are free to any Glendale woman. For some time past every woman who attended the school was given a ticket and if she brought a friend she was given two tickets, the friend also receiving a ticket. Tomorrow the holder of the winning number will be given the gas range. In addition the De Luxe market will present the winner with a turkey for Thanksgiving.

During the class tomorrow a full Thanksgiving menu will be prepared, the turkey for this also being furnished by the De Luxe market.
